Tornado Lifts Excursion Boat Out of Lake; Three Drown, Three Missing

Seven Persons are Rescued in Lake Of Ozarks Storm

ELDON, Mo. (UP) — A tornado lifted a 36-foot, 11-ton excursion boat out of the Lake of the Ozarks Friday, turned it upside down and dropped it back in the lake.

Three of 13 persons aboard, including a Fremont, Neb., boy, were drowned. Three others, including the Nebraska youngster's mother, were missing and feared dead. The other seven were brought to shore by rescue boats and two of them were hospitalized.

The bodies of Warren Lamberty, 2, Fremont; Mrs. Letha Roswell, 50, and her daughter, Rosalene Ruth, 16, both of Belle Plaine, Iowa, were recovered.

Missing were Mrs. Alice Lamberty, mother of the boy; Dwayne Hodges, 19, Missouri Valley, Iowa, and Patricia Gump, 16, Puna, Mo. Richard Lamberty, father of the boy, was rescued. He is a Fremont trucking contractor.

"Suddenly the boat was picked right up out of the water," said its pilot, Junior Graham. "It was turned over in mid-air and then dropped upside down on the water."

Except for Graham, all aboard were persons who came to the central Missouri resort early for the three-day Memorial Day week-end.

The search for the three missing persons was to be resumed today with divers.

The tornado which lifted the heavy excursion boat, the Grand Glaise, out of the water was one of two and possibly three which struck the area Friday afternoon, the Weather Bureau said.

Highway troopers credited the 20-year-old Graham with keeping the death toll as low as it was. They said Graham, of Lake Ozark, Mo., dived under the overturned boat to get life preservers and distribute them among the six other persons hanging on the boat's bottom.

Lifted a Second Time

The excursion boat, which was taken out of drydock only a short time ago for the start of the vacation season, sank after being lifted out of the water a second time by the tornado, but came back to the surface and righted itself.

Graham told troopers the boat was about a mile from its dock near Bagnell Dam, which forms the huge artificial lake, when the tornado struck.

After it capsized, he said, they were able to get the body of one woman on top of it.

"But while we held it there, the winds came along again and for a second time pulled it out of the water. This time when it hit the water it sank," Graham said.

One of the survivors, Mrs. Emmett O'Leary, 33, Berkeley, Mo., told the United Press everyone was in the cabin when the tornado hit, because it had begun to rain a short time earlier.

All Jumbled

"When the boat was turned upside down, we were all jumbled up on the roof of the cabin," she said. "There was about 12 inches of air trapped inside and that gave us enough to breathe."

"It was awfully dark and I got terribly excited," she said. Mrs. O'Leary, who was injured slightly, said her husband swam out of the cabin through a door or window and pulled her along. She said they were in the water about 30 minutes before being rescued.

To Visit Cemeteries Memorial Day; One of Oldest at Somerset

By Alta Porter

Many cemeteries will be visited in Saline and other counties during the week end and on Sunday, which is Memorial Day, country cemeteries which have had their annual "crew cut" will be decked with flowers and in nearby church yards family picnics will be held.

Mrs. Eva Nolen and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rann, and another daughter, Mrs. R. C. Riegel, Harrisburg, may have achieved something of a record in cemetery visitation and decoration. Annually they visit on Memorial Day, six cemeteries, to decorate the graves of their departed loved ones. They go to Liberty, Bankston, No. 7, Salem, Harrisburg, and North America cemeteries. Usually their picnic lunch is spread at Liberty under the huge old trees of the church yard, which is one of the oldest churches and cemeteries in the county, having been a church since 1832.

One of the first cemeteries was that at Somerset, where the first settlers, coming in from Kentucky, and on their way to Galena, experienced an epidemic of smallpox, which took the lives of several.

Director Ned Dearborn of the National Safety Council which estimated that 340 persons would be killed in traffic accidents during the three-day holiday said that "drivers were meeting extra hazards with extra caution."

A survey showed 24 persons had been killed in traffic accidents since 6 p. m. Friday. Three persons drowned and two died from injuries suffered in other accidents.

Memorial Day traditionally opens the summer vacation and holiday season. This year the holiday falls on a Sunday but is being observed on Monday.

The safety council's advance estimate of highway deaths compared with 251 persons killed last Memorial Day which covered only two days.

Butler is Elected President of Saline County Bar Association

Joe M. Butler yesterday was elected president of the Saline County Bar association, succeeding Harry L. McCabe, who is completing a term as president.

The election was held at a luncheon meeting at Schnierle's cafe.

Other officers elected were Robert V. Wilson, vice president, and Richard Jelliffe, secretary-treasurer.

The nominating committee consisted of Lloyd H. Melton, chairman, Glen O. Jones, Trafton Dennis, L. M. Hancock and Don Scott.

Next meeting of the county group will be in September.

Fire last night resulted in extensive damage to the frame part of the Franks building at Jackson and Logan streets.

The fire department, which got the call at 11:30 p. m., was at the scene for two and a half hours with both trucks. Four lines were laid to combat the blaze.

Most of the damage was confined to the second floor of the building. The brick apartment building adjacent to the south was not damaged. An 18-inch fire wall separates the two buildings.

Arthur Franks, owner of the building, said he believed the fire was started by lightning during the thunderstorm last night.

Most badly damaged was an apartment occupied by Alta Stacy, where the fire started. There was extensive fire and water damage to this apartment and to the roof above. Much of the furniture also was badly damaged.

Suffering water damage was an adjacent apartment occupied by June Borgan.

Downstairs, a considerable portion of the corner building is rented by the Pankey bakery for storage of bakery ingredients and there was extensive water damage to this stock.

The Evans Cleaners, which has a shop in this building, apparently was not damaged but all clothing was moved out and taken to the Evans Cleaners on Sloan street near Granzer.

Mr. Franks' bottling plant, also in this building, was not put out of operation.

Dedicate Masonic Temple at Goreville

A dinner was held at 6 p. m., followed by the dedication at 7 p. m.

Those attending: R. C. Davenport, Grand secretary; William Biggers, deputy Grand secretary; Paul Spangler, member of the board of Grand examiners; Everett Stricklin, district deputy Grand master; Guy Lawrence, Herbert Peak, Coy Brown and John Small, Grand lecturers; E. Bishop Hill, Grand lodge committeeman, and Frank Chamness.

Govan and Armistead Win Top HTS Honors

51st Annual Commencement Held At High School

The speaker told the class members they shouldn't feel cheated because they have not lived in a big city; James Govan and Martha Armistead received the top honors, and the diplomas did not arrive in time for the 51st annual Commencement held at Harrisburg Township high school last night.

The speaker, Dr. Albert Nicholas, delivered the address on the subject, "Who's Who in America." Nicholas, professor of Education at Monmouth (Ill.) College, said that most of those in the book "Who's Who in America," came from small towns, and listed the current leading figures in the news and the small towns where they lived their early lives.

Govan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Govan, and Miss Armistead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Armistead, received the American Legion School Awards and accompanying medallions and were first and second, respectively, in their grades for their four years in school, which made them valedictorian and salutatorian.

Certificates Given

And Principal Raymond L. Foster announced to the gathering in Davenport gymnasium that certificates of graduation would be given out in lieu of diplomas. The diplomas, he said, were ordered April 1 and a check revealed they were shipped from Chicago May 18. But only part of the diploma covers had arrived so far, he revealed.

The program started with introductory music by the HTS band and the Mass processional. Following the invocation by the Rev. John P. Emig, minister of the First Presbyterian church, there were marimba-organ duet numbers by Mary Anne Humm and Mona Wickham and a vocal solo by Shirley Kames.

Dr. Nicholas' address followed, after which Donald Upchurch played a saxophone solo.

Atty. Trafton Dennis, a past commander of George Hart post of The American Legion, presented the Legion School awards, giving the first place awards to James Govan and Martha Armistead and honorable mention certificates to Tom Cole and Marjorie Zimmer.

PTA Scholarship Award

Dennis said the awards were given as part of the Legion's program to encourage young people in worthwhile purposes. The students were judged, he said, on (a) Honor, (b) Courage, (c) Scholarship, (d) Leadership and (e) Service.

Principal Foster announced that a $250-per-year scholarship for four years, given by the PTA, goes to Mary Shannon Taylor, then listed those in the class who had not been absent or tardy for one year, then for two, for three and four years. Seniors not absent or tardy for four years were Glendell Clinton Butterworth, John H. Lee, Arbaella McDermott, Betty Partain, John Wiley and Dolores McDonald.

Tops in Grades

He next listed the top ten in grades for the four years in school as follows:

James Govan 95.78, Martha Armistead 95.70, Carolyn Wilson 95.05, Thomas Cole 94.96, Regina McCormick 94.35, June Blackard 93.50, Frederica Catherine Christman 93.87, Jack Harper 93, Shirley Josey

Gov. Stratton Selects Five Toll Road Routes; State To Issue $583 Million Bonds

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — Five routes covering 465 miles bore Gov. William G. Stratton's approval today as the first links in an Illinois toll roads network.

Stratton told a news conference late Friday he had decided upon a bond issue of 583 million dollars to be floated by December or January to finance construction of these turnpikes:

1. A Tri-State Turnpike around Chicago, stretching 57 miles and costing 134 million dollars.

2. Chicago to Rockford, between U. S. 20 and 14, covering 80 miles and costing 91 million dollars.

3. Chicago to Rock Island and Moline parallel to U. S. 30 via Aurora, Dixon and Sterling, 149 miles at a cost of 162 million dollars.

4. Chicago to the Wisconsin border toward Milwaukee, 25 miles at a cost of 33 million dollars.

5. East St. Louis to the Indiana line near Terre Haute, between U. S. 40 and 50, 154 miles costing 163 million dollars.

The governor announced his decision after receiving a report on possible routes made by consulting engineers to the Illinois Toll Roads commission, set up by the 1953 legislature.

Personal Decision

He said he "personally" decided what routes would be followed, but the five-man commission, of which he is a member, agreed.

Stratton said a second bond issue for about 200 million dollars will cover a route from Chicago southward to connect with the East St. Louis-Terre Haute route between Mattoon and Robinson.

Stratton said he did not know exactly when construction would begin, but it would depend on how much time was taken with acquiring rights-of-way for turnpikes.

The governor's decision on what toll routes would be followed came partly as a surprise, particularly the East St. Louis-Terre Haute route, which engineers said could not support the cost of revenue bonds for another 11 years.

The engineers' report, made by Joseph K. Knoerle & Associates, Inc., Baltimore and Chicago, sought to determine "feasible" routes on a basis of which would bring in enough tolls to pay off bonds.

Saline county has a total of 15 operations in the county this week of which two are dry holes, one completed oil well and three new wildcat tests starting.

Three miles southeast of Harrisburg, east of highway 34, Joe Ash-off Jr. of Carmi has started a wildcat on the A. L. Smith farm in 2-10-66, SW SW SW. It is about two miles northeast of the very small oil wells at Mitchellville and more than a mile from other good production.

The Hoagland Drilling company of Robinson, is contracting this 1600-foot Walters sandstone test with a portable rotary rig and is drilling today below 400 feet after setting 60 feet of surface casing.

This is a local venture which has already been publicized.

Another rank wildcat just starting is the L. F. Wilson No. 1 Virgil Manker, NW SW SW, 23-7-56, four miles due north of Galatia near the Hamilton county line. Wilson and Ripley are the contractors and were digging this morning at 800 feet with rotary.

Apply for Permit

Two miles west of Galatia, just north of highway 34, W. E. Weidner and Joan Production company are drilling around 2900 in or near the Aux Vases sand on their No. 1 Woolard, SW NW NE, 9-8-56, more than six miles from other production. Alech Drilling of Salem is digging this test.

Collins Brothers of Mt. Vernon, Ill. have applied for a permit to drill a wildcat test on the Paul Jones farm in the NW SW NW, 19-7-56, in the northwest corner of the county, two miles east of Thompsonville. Drilling should start sometime next week.

Four miles northwest of Eldorado, Breuer and Robinson are cleaning out after running a squeeze job on their No. 1 Woolard Heirs, 35-7-56, to test the Cypress sand 25-28-43 which is making most.

Historical Society To Meet in Galatia

The June meeting of the Saline County Historical society will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Durham, in Galatia, on Tuesday, June 1. There will be a short tour of historic spots in Galatia before the potluck dinner which will be at 6:30 p. m.

The program will be a group discussion of places in both Raleigh and Galatia, particularly the trails and tobacco barns. Mrs. Essie Musgraves and Ward Barnes will direct the discussion about Raleigh. Mrs. Edna Jones and Ray Durham will direct the discussion about Galatia. John W. Allen of Carbondale will be present and contribute to the discussion.

Residents of Raleigh and Galatia who are interested in the history of the towns and those knowing stories of historic interest are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Durham's home is two blocks south from Peter's cafe on the main street in Galatia. It is the large white house opposite the old bank building.

Lee Ragsdale, Former Pope County Man, Dies

Lee Ragsdale, former resident of Raum and Eddyville communities in Pope county, died suddenly at his new home in Oreana yesterday at 7:30 a. m.

He was a brother to Mrs. Besie Williams, Harrisburg, Mrs. Era Fulkner, Temple Hill, and Frank Ragsdale, Decatur.

The funeral will be Monday at 2 p. m. at Oreana and burial will be there.

Invites Gov't Employees to Give Information

Symington Says Action Will Destroy Nation's Security

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Stuart Symington said today Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's bid for federal work-ers to defy the President and give him secret information would destroy the nation's security.

The Missouri Democrat spoke as McCarthy appeared willing to battle the whole Eisenhower administration. He invited government employees to furnish him information despite presidential directives.

"This is the decision," said Symington, who tangled with McCarthy Friday in the Senate Investigating Subcommittee.

"It's developing into a clear-cut issue as to the positions of the executive and legislative branches."

No American Security

"You just couldn't run our Defense Department under McCarthy's rules," said Symington, a former secretary of the Air Force.

"From the standpoint of the Defense Department, you just wouldn't have any American security."

But McCarthy renewed his bid for information in the televised hearings Friday in the face of a White House statement that anyone who sought to override presidential secrecy orders was trying "to set himself above the laws of our land."

The Wisconsin Republican said he intends to get information about Communism and corruption from anyone he can, and he promised to protect his informants "to the fullest."

Mundt Supports McCarthy

Temporary Chairman Karl E. Mundt (RSD) backed up McCarthy's stand. Mundt said most congressional investigations start from classified information leaked by government employees and he doesn't care if President Eisenhower did call it reprehensible.

"That's the way you play the game," Mundt told reporters.

Mr. Eisenhower told a news conference May 12 that it was reprehensible for any officer or civilian to give away information involving national security.

Republicans on the subcommittee voted Wednesday, over Symington's cries of "whitewash" to dismiss charges against Asst. Defense Secretary H. Struve Hensel and McCarthy's staff director Francis P. Carr.

The vote also dismissed them as witnesses, but McCarthy announced Friday he would call Carr later as a witness for his side.

Two-Hour Wrangle

McCarthy's frequently-repeated promise to protect his informants led to a two-hour wrangle Friday in which the subcommittee issued a subpoena for its own files, replaced it with another and then put the document on ice when McCarthy agreed to furnish files so long as Mundt kept McCarthy's sources secret.

Four Killed, Three Injured in Crash Near Mt. Vernon

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (UP) — Four persons were killed and three others injured in a head-on collision at a railroad underpass on Ill. 37 north of here Friday night.

Loren Miller, 35, Canton, Ill., and his infant daughter were killed in one car. Miller's wife was critically injured and two other daughters were injured less seriously.

Marvin J. Jones, 21, Mount Vernon, driver, and passenger James Boyd, 20, Mount Vernon, were killed in the second car.

Nine other autos piled up in collisions in and near the underpass during a 1½ hour period following the accident but there were no injuries in those mishaps.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer
The grass silage season is here. Some farmers already have started filling trench silos or making hay. Under proper conditions the normal loss of feed from spoilage alone is about 16 per cent for grass silage. On the other hand, if the same crop is made into hay the normal loss of leaves and other feed values is nearly 30 per cent. Then, too, rain may ruin the entire crop of hay. This will be avoided in chopping it into silage. If silage is stored in a stack there is danger of losses. A poor stack may suffer heavy spoilage. In a good stack the loss of nutrients will be no higher than with hay because all the legume leaves are saved in silage.

June is Dairy Month. The best way to cut into the surplus and brighten the dairymen's picture is to ask for and use more dairy products. For drinking purposes, consider Grade A milk. It is safe. Check the label in buying milk. Only Grade A may be labeled so.

Unless feed-livestock rations are abnormally favorable to livestock, unhealthy animals will never make a profit. Sanitation is an important factor in keeping livestock healthy. It may be achieved by cleanliness, by disinfecting, and by good ventilation.

If a ring-test indicates the presence of brucellosis in the herd, have the animals blood tested and get rid of the reactors.

It is better to swat that first fly or to kill other insect pests early because they reproduce at astounding rates. A small early reduction is easier and more beneficial than a major eradication campaign later.

For the farmer doing any kind of spraying—particularly in fields against insects or weeds—money will be saved if the spray outfit is calibrated before the spraying gets underway, making certain that it will apply the proper amount of material per acre.

For field spraying this calibration may be done by the following four steps: 1. Fill the spray tank completely. 2. Drive straight ahead for 40 rods, spraying at the usual pressure and traveling speed. 3. Stop and re-fill the tank with a measure to see how much was used in the 40 rods. 4. Multiply the gallons used by 66 and divide the answer by the number of feet in the width sprayed. The answer gives the application rate in gallons per acre.

It is important for the flower gardener to remember that plant roots should not be cut from early flowering bulbs immediately after blooming. The leaves comprise the food factory that stores the nutrients in the bulbs so that next year's flowers may form.

Fertilized Pastures Will Raise More Beef

CHICAGO—Fertilized pastures produced $23 more beef per acre last year than unfertilized pastures, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in citing tests by Minnesota soils specialists. Beef production on the fertilized pastures was worth $47.16 per acre compared to $22.33 on the unfertilized fields, according to the Minnesota agronomists.

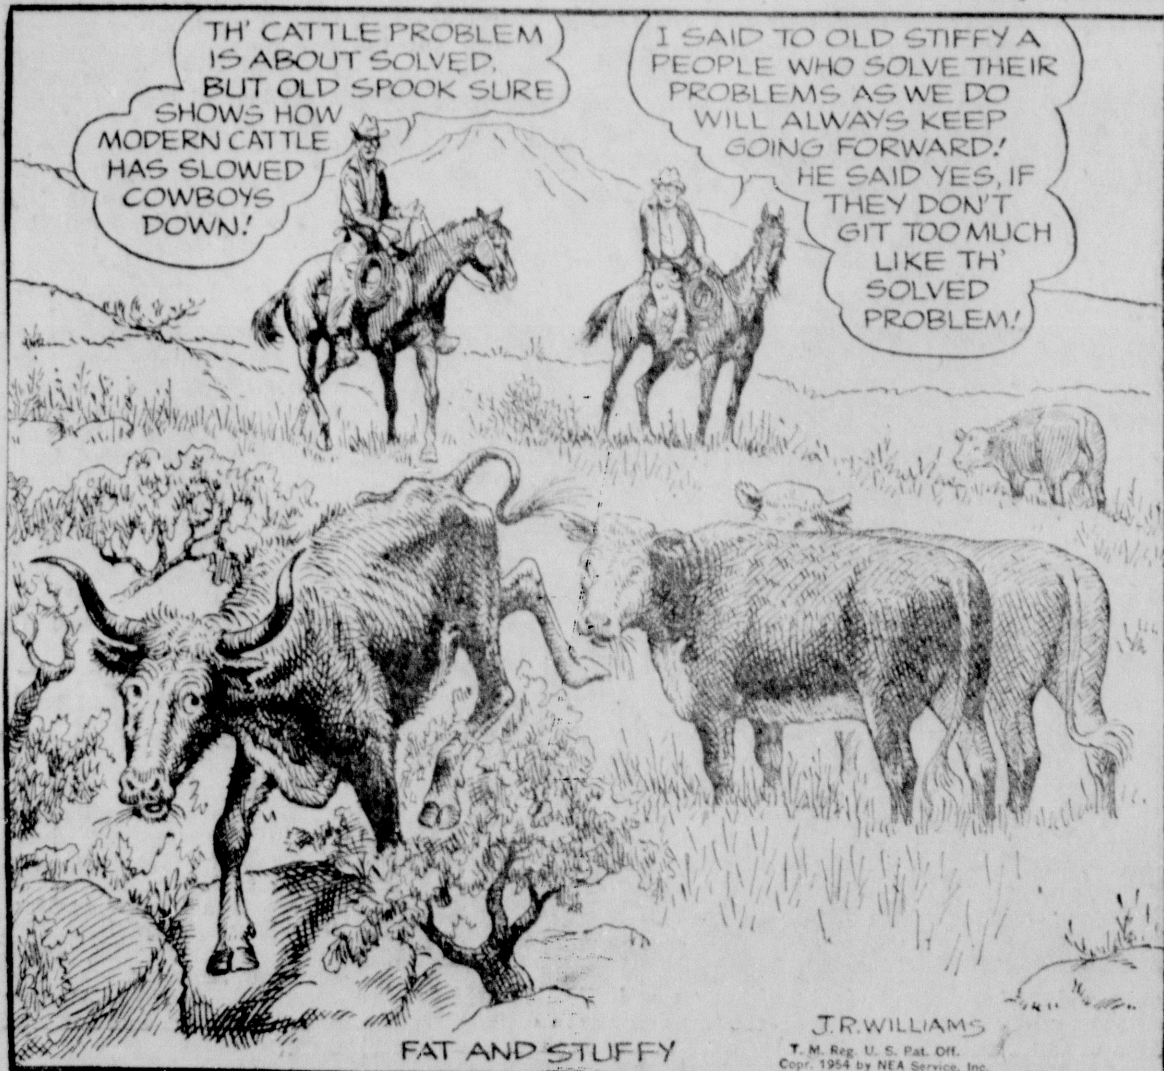

Steers gained an average of 2.25 pounds apiece daily on the pastures treated with 500 pounds per acre of 5-20-20 fertilizer. Daily weight gains averaged only 1.81 pounds per steer on the check plots.

The pasture mixture was alfalfa, red clover, brome and timothy. Total weight gains in a 120-day test were 270 pounds per steer on the fertilized fields, as against 217.2 on unfertilized pastures.

The soil building program increased the pasture's cattle carrying capacity by 70 per cent and boosted gross returns by 111 per cent, the Minnesota soils men estimate.

Largest cattle market east of Chicago is the stockyard at Lancaster, Pa.

Out Our Way

MARY'S LAMB NEVER HAD IT SO GOOD—Sally the lamb is merry when feeding time comes at the home of her mistress Mrs. Florence Byers, of Walton Hills, Ohio. She cradles on her mistress' lap and drinks milk from a bottle. Sally is three months old and has been with the Byers' since she was 14 days old. Recently the family was tempted to sell the lamb, but backed down under the tearful protests from their two daughters.

Predict Little Change in Beef Profit Level

CARBONDALE, Ill.—The current outlook indicates little change in the profit level for beef farmers but a tighter squeeze on dairymen's profits during 1954, says Carroll V. Hess, supervisor of Test Farms at Southern Illinois University.

Beef steers, heifers, and bulls showed a slight decline in numbers during 1953 because of heavy slaughtering, drought conditions, and falling prices. Beef cows, however, increased six per cent, indicating a continued high level of beef coming to market this year and next. Eleven corn belt states reported one per cent less cattle on feed in April than a year earlier, but still 18 per cent more than two years ago.

Dairy cattle numbers are up three percent over last year. However, a drop in price support likely will mean nearly a 10 per cent drop in milk prices during the spring and summer and tend to discourage increasing milk production in the fall and winter after pastures are depleted. With milk-feed price ratios below average, dairymen face additional profit pinching. Lighter grain feeding and heavier culling seems likely. Hess says the latter is advisable if the dairy farmer is to continue making a profit.

Weather conditions during the summer will have considerable influence on both beef and milk output and subsequent prices. Severe droughts could force abnormal numbers of cattle to market and depress prices.

For the country as a whole the number of cattle and calves has stabilized. According to crop and livestock reports there was only about a one per cent increase during 1953 which began with 95,000,000 cattle. However, that was 18,000,000 more than were reported in 1949.

More Profit by Culling Cows

Increase profits from your dairy herd by "keeping the best and culling the rest."

That's the advice of University of Illinois Dairy Specialist J. G. Cash. Culling poor-producing dairy cows will keep them from eating up the profits from good producers.

D.H.I.A. records from one small Illinois herd prove this point. The dairymen paid $164 for the privilege of keeping two low-producing cows. Eight profitable cows in his herd brought a net return of $461 in 1953. However, he milked ten cows, and the ten cows returned only $297. If the dairymen had milked only the eight good cows and sold the two poor producers, he would have netted $164 more profit, says Cash. And he would have put 12 per cent less butterfat on the market.

A sound culling program will protect dairymen from falling dairy profits. Organized testing programs, such as D.H.I.A. testing, will point out the "profit-takers" in a dairy herd.

Farmers who are not in testing programs need some method of measuring the production of their cows. Cash suggests that these dairymen weigh the milk of each cow at regular intervals. Weighing the milk one day each month will give a good indication of yearly production.

Cash gives the following rule of thumb to follow in culling cows: Cull cows of higher testing breeds that produce less than 5,000 pounds of milk a year. For the lower testing breeds, cull cows that produce less than 7,500 pounds. These culling standards will increase the net income on most dairy farms.

Houseflies are useful in cross-pollinating celery plants.

Thin Egg Shells Are Caused By Hot Weather

All of the oyster shells in the Chesapeake Bay wouldn't keep your hens from laying thin-shelled eggs this summer.

Don J. Bray, extension poultry specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says research has shown that high temperatures have a direct effect on the thickness of egg shells.

Hens will lay thicker shelled eggs even in summer if they are kept in an artificially cooled place. And hens exposed to summer temperatures in the winter will lay thin-shelled eggs.

Your hens will still need oyster shell and vitamin D in normal amounts during the summer months, Bray says, because they are both needed in the shell-building process. But feeding more oyster shells and vitamin D supplement in hot weather will not prevent thin shells or reduce the egg breakage problem.

Here's how you can help keep egg breakage low this summer, according to Bray:

1. Keep oyster shells before the hens in special hoppers all the time.
2. Gather eggs several times a day.
3. Put in plenty of clean nesting material.
4. Keep the hen house as cool as you can with ceiling insulation and as much ventilation as possible.
5. Keep plenty of cool, clean drinking water available so that the birds can always get all they want.

Are Poisons on Your Farm?

URBANA—Here's a list from the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine of things to do to help you prevent livestock poisonings this spring:

Cover your salt troughs. Salt brine is poisonous to swine. Pick up your old nitrate fertilizer sacks. Cattle can be poisoned if they chew on them.

Keep rat poisons and grasshopper baits out of reach of livestock as well as children.

Don't feed seed grain that has been treated with mercury or arsenic compounds.

Check with your veterinarian before you put your animals on pastures you have sprayed with weed killers like 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. These chemicals can cause changes in some plants that will make them poisonous.

Use the wettable forms of lindane, chlordane, methoxychlor or DDT as livestock insecticides. The oil forms are poisonous. Keep your animals off fields that you have sprayed with new organic phosphate insecticides (like parathion) for a few days.

Use non-lead paint on your barn, fences and gates to avoid lead poisoning. Keep livestock away from surfaces painted with lead paint. Pick up your paint buckets and old batteries so that your cattle can't get at them. Keep livestock out of the orchard while you are spraying with lead arsenate, and don't let the chemical collect on grass or ponds.

Use lubricating greases that don't contain chlorinated naphthalenes. These chemicals can cause hyperkeratosis (X-disease) in cattle.

You cannot afford to pasture your woodland. Your livestock will not make gains, and they may even lose weight, so you are losing money every day they are in the woods. If protected from livestock, woodlands will produce timber each year worth $5 to $10 an acre on the stump. If grazed, they will deteriorate faster than they can grow.

Sweet Sudan is the most popular variety in Illinois, and one of the best. Buy only certified seed or seed that you know is pure, Scott warns. Pure Sudan is much less likely to cause prussic acid poisoning than Sudan that contains admixtures of grain or forage sorghum or than the hybrids that result from natural crossing of Sudan and other sorghums.

Scott says that, if chinch bugs are abundant in your area, you should consider planting soybeans with the Sudan. These bugs do not damage soybeans, so planting beans with the Sudan may insure a good growth of pasture. The usual seeding rate for this mixture is 15 to 20 pounds of Sudan and one and one-half bushels of soybeans.

Let the Sudan reach a height of 18 inches before pasturing, Scott suggests, and you will have less trouble with prussic acid poisoning. Usually Sudan will be ready to graze four to six weeks after it is planted.

Cull low-producing milk cows. They are not money-makers, and they only produce more milk for a market that doesn't need it.

4-H Club Camp In June and July

The 4-H Club camping program at West Frankfort Lake Area starts in June for several southern Illinois counties. Saline county camping dates are June 28 to July 2, and July 12 to 16.

Those boys and girls who are going to camp at one of the camping periods should speak to their leader who will notify the Farm Home Adviser. These camps are more of a school as well as recreational periods. Classes in Handicraft, Nature Study, Electrical work on lamps for the home, Woodwork and swimming classes are organized for the whole camp.

Games and recreation are given considerable time by the director and leaders for benefit of campers.

There will be new screened-in cabins for the campers use this summer. These are an improvement from tents used for the past several years. Twenty campers from Saline county may attend each camp. Our quota is ten boys and ten girls. The first camping period is for the younger group and the second period for the older group. It would be an excellent plan if each club could send two more members to camp this summer.

GROW CORN FOR SILAGE

Corn for silage is the way to use many diverted acres, say North Dakota agronomists. They suggest corn to build greater feed reserves and for better weed control. In 46 years at Dickinson, corn has averaged 3 1/2 tons of silage an acre and failed only twice—once because of drought, once from hail. Corn actually needs less moisture per pound of dry matter produced than small grain or hay.—Capper's Farmer.

Contoured Corn Yields Hold Up in Dry Season

URBANA—Contoured corn last year yielded 11 bushels an acre more than corn planted up and down the slope on the University South Farm.

Ben A. Jones, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, attributes most of this yield difference to the fact that the contours helped to hold moisture in the rows.

During the dry summer this extra moisture made the large difference in yield, Jones says.

Actual yields were 79 bushels an acre on rows cultivated up and down and 90 bushels on the contoured rows. The slope in this case averaged about 2 percent.

Contour planting and cultivating help to keep the soil in place for future use, in addition to conserving moisture, the farm engineer points out.

It is not difficult to plant your fields on the contour. For more information see your county farm adviser or soil conservation district farm planner. Or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, for a copy of Circular 575.

In Memoriam
In memory of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray Nolen, who departed this life June 22, 1940 and June 3, 1953, respectively.
Little we knew with dawn that morn.
The sorrow it would bring;
The blow was hard, the shock severe.
We little thought the end was near.
If all the world were ours to give, We would give it, yes and more, To see your smiling face again.
Come shining through this door. Sometimes it is hard to understand Why some things have to be. But in His wisdom God had planned.
Beyond our power to see. God gave us strength to bear it. And courage to meet the blow. But what it means to lose you. This world will never know.
The beautiful things you did for us. Live in our hearts each day. And keep you near and dear to us. Though you have passed away. Sadly missed by the Family. 282-1

Complete Rhine Well
Their No. 4 J. H. Massey is awaiting cable tools to clean out and complete also in the Cypress sand from 2550 to 2561, TD 2561 and still in saturation.

In the same area just south, George and Wreather have completed their No. 3 Earl and Sally Rhine, NE NW NE, 2-8-66, pumping 150 barrels of oil a day after fracturing the Cypress sand 2528-41.

In the oil field just north of Eldorado, Carter Oil is cleaning out and testing after fracturing the Aux Vases sandy lime 2900-11 on their No. 2 Dolph Reeder, 8-8-76, which bailed four barrels of oil and two barrels of water per hour natural.

The townsie boom in Beulah Heights, on the west edge of Eldorado is still going strong. John Stelle and Associates have started drilling on a north offset to their discovery well in the SE SE NW, of 20-8-76, on the Eugene Choiseur and J. H. Butler Unitized lease. Byron Rucker is the rotary cone tractor and was digging below 1700 today.

Test is Abandoned
They have plugged and abandoned their No. 1 Emil Choiseur, NE NW SE, 20-8-76, after drilling to a total depth of 2943 through to the Aux Vases sandy lime. A drill stem test opposite the time recovered only five feet of oil mixed mud and 30 feet of sulphur water.

The same operators' No. 2 John J. Jones, a west offset to the discovery test, is cleaning out and testing after fracturing both the Paint Creek sand 2668-80 and Aux Vases lime 2860-78 with no gauges available at this time.

They have staked a new location to drill a semi-wildcat (over one half mile) on the Choiseur and Cale Unitized lease, in the NE NW NW, 20-8-76, but drilling won't begin until Mr. Rucker's rotary tools are available.

Other Locations
Also still a location is the Byron Rucker and Edward E. Rue No. 1 Slow Hise, NE NW SW, in 17-8-76, three quarters mile from other oil wells.

Two miles due east of Eldorado, Walter Duncan has set casing on his No. 1 Dora Straint et al, SE SW NE, 23-8-76, after successfully drill stem testing the Aux Vases sand. The test from 2866-86 gassed in 25 minutes and recovered 115 feet of clean oil, 135 feet of mud mixed oil and 90 feet of oil mixed mud.

Miami Operating No. 1 Stanley Edmister et al, in 13-8-76, three miles east of Eldorado, is still a location awaiting rotary tools.

French Force Reinforces Besieged Post

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—A powerful French armored force has blasted a path through Communist besiegers to the encircled outpost of Yen Phu with reinforcements for the hard-pressed garrison, the French high command announced today.

Tanks, armored alligators for navigating the flooded rice paddies and motor-borne infantry slammed through two divisions of Communists who had wormed their way to within 100 yards of the barbed wire and brick blockhouses of the strategic post 40 miles south of Hanoi.

The French Union force routed the Reds from their advance positions after French fighter-bombers roared in at low level in concentrated bombing and strafing attacks to soften up the Communist defenses.

B26 bombers dropped 1,000-pound bombs and flaming jellie gasoline on the rebel Viet Minh bases in the limestone hills just across the Day River from the fortress which has been encircled and under siege for three weeks.

The attack, one of the greatest displays of French force since the fall of Dien Bien Phu, came while French army sources were hinting that the vital defense post might have to be abandoned to the steadily encroaching rebels.

It was the second relief column to ram its way to Yen Phu within a week. A powerful striking force drove through Red lines last Friday, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy with the amphibious alligators laying down a deadly barrage of 75 millimeter shells.

Giants Crush Dodgers, 17-6, For Sixth Straight; Braves Beat Cardinals in 12 Innings

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
Leo Durocher could well become the world's greatest gin-rummy player, but he also could lose his touch as a third base coach if the Giants keep up their winning streak.

The dandy little manager chortled today over the sixth straight victory by his on-rushing Giants, a 17-6 crusher over the Dodgers that included six homers, four in the eighth inning. His contribution to it all?

"It's simple," he said. "I just keep playing gin rummy before every game with Russ Hodges and let Herman Franks do my coaching at third."

When the Giants started their streak, the superstitious Durocher decided that he would play cards with Hodges, the Giants' broadcaster before a game with the Phillies instead of going out into the dugout. The Giants won that day and so Durocher made Hodges come in for a command performance every day after that. Franks did the coaching that day and there he'll stay until the winning streak ends.

Aside from that the Giants have been playing some fancy baseball. Friday night, crushing the Dodgers, Davey Williams, Al Dark, Monte Irvin and rookie Willie Gardner hit the homers in the eighth. Gardner's was with two men on.

Whitey Lockman and Willie Mays also hit homers. Mays got four hits.

First place Milwaukee won its 10th straight in 12 innings, 3-2 from the Cardinals in a marathon game delayed an hour at the start because of rain. After St. Louis went ahead 2-1 in the top of the 12th as Ray Jablonski singled home the marginal run, Milwaukee put over a pair on a walk to Eddie Mathews with two out, and singles by Andy Pafko, Joe Adcock, and Johnny Logan. Lew Burdette pitched a five-hitter all the way for his fifth victory. He struck out five.

The Phillies won their third in a row, 4-0, over the Pirates on a four-hitter by Murry Dickson. The game was called at the end of the sixth because of rain. Gran Hamner kept up his terrific hitting, driving in two runs with a double and single.

Rookie Art Fowler struck out eight batters and gave up 11 well-scattered hits to gain his fourth victory without a loss, 6-3, for Cincinnati over the Cubs. Fowler, in hot water frequently, struck out Dee Fondy, Hank Sauer, and Ralph Kiner in order with runners on second and third in the third. Ted Kluszewski and Wally Post hit homers for Cincinnati. Kluszewski's was his 12th.

In the American league, the White Sox had a thunderous night at bat, pounding out 11-6 and 14-8 victories at Baltimore to move within nine percentage points of first-place Cleveland and stretch their winning streak to seven games. The Yankees spotted the Red Sox a six-run lead then bounded back for a 10-9 victory. Early Wynn pitched a two-hitter to give Cleveland a 3-0 victory over Detroit. Washington outslugged Philadelphia 12-6.

Cass Michaels hit a grand slam homer for the big blow in the opening triumph over Baltimore. Al Carrasquini got a homer and two singles, driving in two runs. In the second game the White Sox made six runs in the first two innings, sending Baltimore down to its ninth straight defeat. Ferris Fain's triple in the first and Jim Rivera's homer in the second were the key blows.

The Yankees tied the score at 9-all in Boston with a six-run rally in the sixth, offsetting homers by Jack Jensen, Harry Agganis and Ted Lepore. Then Andy Carey drove home the winning run with a single in the ninth. Jerry Coleman homered for New York.

Al Rosen hit a two-run homer, his 13th, for Cleveland's big blow in a fine duel between Wynn and Steve Gromek that went scoreless until the Indians scored all their runs in the seventh.

Jim Busby, Wayne Terwilliger, and Roy Sievers hit homers for Washington, more than offsetting a pair of homers by Gus Zernial, as the Senators piled up 12 hits and handed rookie Bob Trice his third straight defeat after four straight victories.

Nash to Play at Seebree, Ky., Sunday

The Nash baseball team will travel to Seebree, Ky., Sunday and attempt to extend its winning streak to three in a row. Seebree has a highly touted ball team.

Parker will start on the hill for Nash with Wilson receiving. Others in the starting lineup will be Shewmake 1b, Fulkerson 2b, Karnes ss, Ziegler 3b, Siskly lf, Kon Nolen cf, and Harrison rf. J. Nolen and Roark will be on hand for mound duty if needed with Stapleton, Horton, Vinson and Buchanan also ready for reserve duty.

Players making the trip are asked to meet at the town park at 11 a. m.

Spectators Await Memorial Day '500' IN THE Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP)—Don't believe that the drivers aren't apprehensive as they prepare for the Memorial Day 500-mile automobile race—an event which has claimed 38 lives.

"I know I always had butterflies before the race, and so does everybody else," insists Pete De Paolo, who won the 500 in 1925. "But once the race gets under way you don't have time to worry about what might happen to you."

Pete is on hand for Monday's annual motor classic and so is his uncle, Ralph De Palma, who won the race in 1915. The white-haired De Palma, who looks like a Supreme Court judge, won with a record speed of 89.84 miles per hour 39 years ago while Bill Vukovich averaged 128.74 miles per hour winning last year.

"These boys today would run right over us old timers," De Palma smiles. "Equipment is a lot better now—but so are the drivers."

Anxiously awaiting spectators have been parked outside the speedway for two weeks now, sleeping in their cars, cooking on hotplates and buying hot water for shaving at 50 cents a crack from nearby homes. There's a regular midway along one side of the 433-acre speedway with a tiny midge ride, a carnival, food booths and souvenir stands. The speedway also has an 18-hole golf course, with nine holes inside the two and one-half mile track. A bridge leads over the track and goiters played all week, ignoring the practicing racing cars.

Driving Is Payoff
This is a race in which driving should be the payoff. Because all 33 cars are equipped with Meyer-Drake engines, Champion spark plugs, Firestone tires and Perfect Circle piston rings. It's the first such mechanical sweep in history and unusual because competition among parts manufacturers is so keen.

Many mechanical items have been tested in the 500 but you probably didn't know that it gave you the rear-view mirror. Just before the 1911 race, which he won, Ray Harroun took a pocket mirror out of his wife's handbag and taped it to his windshield. Harroun, a white-haired little man, is retired but he's on hand to watch the sprouts strut their stuff.

Rain is predicted for Monday, but the drivers are more interested in what the temperature will be. That brick asphalt track got up to 130 degrees when the sun baked it last year. Riding just a few inches above that inferno, with their legs wrapped around blazing motor, eight drivers wound up in the hospital with heat exhaustion the last time.

Wilbur Shaw, now the speedway president, won this race three times to become the biggest money

MICKEY ONE-ARM—Mickey Mantle's strong right arm handles the job of pulling up his swing on a bad pitch by itself. It's this kind of muscle man tactics which have made the Mick a feared swinger—and he is beginning to move now, after a slow start. (NEA)

Track in Good Condition For Stock Car Racing Program Tonight

Friday night's heavy rainfall was good for the Saline Speedway, according to an announcement from racing officials.

The rain was not heavy enough to muddy the track and with a little work today the track should be in the best condition of the season.

It is also said that several additional cars should be present for this evening. Six or seven cars have been in the process of being built and checks made during the week indicate that some of them will be ready to make their appearance on the Saline Speedway this evening.

A 25-lap race will be the feature event tonight.

Time trials at 7:30 and racing thirty minutes later.

The race this year will be worth about $90,000, but the driver only gets about 40 per cent. This is because the car owners have an average of $45,000 sunk in each car—and, too often, after the race is over they aren't worth 45 cents.

Merchants Face Herrin, Thebes In Week End Play

The Harrisburg Merchants face a busy holiday week end by facing the Herrin VFW club at home Sunday afternoon and traveling to Thebes on Monday.

The Herrin Vets have compiled an impressive record over teams in the Chester and East St. Louis areas and the local club hopes to be at full strength for this encounter. "Buzz" Kennedy probably will start for Harrisburg with Dick Romonosky catching. Kennedy, a portsider, has at times showed good ability to pitch in tight spots and shows a good strikeout ball despite occurrences of wildness. Gene Trammel, the new Merchant addition to the hurling corps, will be held for the number one relief chore if needed. Trammel bested "Big Jim" Bumpus last week in a 17-7 rout of the colored nine in Kentucky.

Tom Dunbar, the locals' big first sacker, has wrestled the batting lead from Harold Guley. Dunbar, showing one of the most devastating bats of local baseball history, is supporting a .435 average and has six doubles and four triples out of ten hits. Guley is pushing Dunbar with a .423 mark, followed by Odle with a .400 average.

Billy McNew is scheduled for the Thebes game on Monday. He hurled a four hitter at the Greyhounds two weeks ago and should not have too much trouble finding his third victory of the season. Gendron, a southpaw who checked the rout of the Greyhounds at the town park diamond, is expected to start for Thebes.

Shrimp are found in all coastal states of the Union.

Reschedule State Baseball Semifinals

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Semifinal games in the Illinois High School Baseball tournament will be played next Friday at Bradley University field, Peoria.

The games were rescheduled to-day after severe thunderstorms had washed out all tournament play on Friday.

Officials said the first round game between New Trier and Thornton Fractional would be played sometime next week, probably in Comiskey park, Chicago.

Another first round game between Peoria Manual and Belleville will be played next week on a date and site to be selected.

Friday's semifinal games will be at 10 a. m. and noon. The championship tilt will be at 3 p. m.

Big Ten Votes New Plan of Selecting Rose Bowl Team

LAFAYETTE, Ind., (AP)—Big Ten athletic directors have found a new way to choose conference representatives to the Rose Bowl.

The new plan will be applied in case of tie votes, following a season in which two or more teams tied for the Big Ten championship.

The directors voted to apply the following rules to all future cases of tie votes following ties for the title:

1. The team or teams, if there is more than a two-way tie, which last went to the Rose Bowl automatically is eliminated.

2. If that fails to break the tie, the winner of the game played between the teams involved during the regular season, is selected.
3. If there still is no basis for selection, the choice will be made by the toss of a coin.
Illinois and Michigan State finished in a first-place tie last fall and in 1952, Purdue and Wisconsin tied for the title. A series of secret ballots by the athletic directors made the selections for those years.
The athletic directors will meet again today with faculty representatives to discuss proposed regulations limiting aid to athletes of proven academic ability and established need.

THE THRESHOLD!

The Baccalaureate speaker was right. This was the threshold of life. Beyond today, spanning the years, were many paths each leading to a different goal. Someone in Bob Adams' position need only to choose his path.

Bob wasn't frightened. The choice would not be difficult. In fact, it had already been made.

Not that anyone had told Bob which profession to follow . . . which opportunity would be most rewarding. No! Those decisions were not yet final. . . .

But one decision was final. He had made it some years before—on the day he had become a member of the Church.

Bob had decided to build his life on faith . . . on the principles the Church had instilled in his conscience . . . on the truth and the power and the love of JESUS CHRIST. Bob Adams had chosen HIS Path!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Elisha Reveals Spiritual Resources"

II Kings 6:8-17
GOLDEN TEXT: "If God is for us, who is against us?" (Romans 8:31)

INTRODUCTION: No man is indispensable. Men appear upon the scene, play their role and pass on. Another takes their place and the world goes on. No man is ever so important that the world is caused to stop when he departs this life.

God's work goes on. Great and powerful servants of God appear upon the scene. They play their role and then pass on. Elijah was a great man. So great that he was translated from this life to the next without experiencing death. God sent a chariot of fire and carried him right on into heaven.

However, even Elijah was not so indispensable that God must leave him on earth. God had another man ready. His name was Elisha. When Elijah left Elisha asked God for a double portion of Elijah's spirit. He wanted to be able to serve his country and his God in a mighty way.

THE ALL-WISE GOD (V. 8-12)
The Syrians were warring against Israel. Strange things began to happen. It made no difference what secret plans were made by the Syrian army. Israel always knew those plans and was able to escape. The Syrian king thought that he had a leak in his intelligence department. He thought some spying was going on inside his corps of officers. He was dismayed to find that such was not the truth but that God was telling Elisha what to tell the people of Israel. Why, the Israelites knew the secret things which were planned even in the king's bed-chamber.

What an intelligence department Israel had! God, who knows all and sees all was telling Elisha what to tell Israel to expect from Syria. Syria did not have a chance. That leads us to believe that God's man is a good man to know and trust. If your minister knows God as he should, he can be of great service to you when trouble comes. He is in touch with God at all times and can bring God's message directly to you.

The king of Syria was going to eliminate God's man, but they suffered even for trying. It is always so. People are suffering today because they have tried to hurt God's man. People need to remember what God has said—"Touch not mine anointed; do my prophets no harm."

II THE ALL-POWERFUL GOD (V. 13-15)
The minority plus God is always a majority. One man plus God can whip all the enemies of God. When will the enemies of God learn that lesson?

The king of Syria sent spies down and later an army to take this one man. One man of God can cause the enemies of God a lot of trouble. How could one man and his servant whip an army?

What that servant of Elisha needed to know and by the way, what we need to know, is that God can handle a whole army as easily as he can handle one man. Someone has said that we can "attempt great things for God and expect great things from Him."

III THE REALITY OF GOD (V. 16-17)
We are surrounded by God's protecting love. His angels await his command to fly to our assistance.

A host, a multitude of God's servants stand ready to come to our aid at all times. My! how the leaders of our nation need to come back to a new realization of this truth. More can be accomplished toward world peace by trusting in God's leadership that will ever be accomplished by councils, munitions, treaties and planes.

CONCLUSION: God opened the eyes of Elisha's servant and gave him a vision of the host of protecting angels. May God bless us by giving us a vision of what He is ready to do for us. God give us men and women today who are ready and willing to place their complete trust in Thee.
